

2021/2022 WOMXN'S WRITING CIRCLES

Outline

Although writing is intrinsically rewarding like nothing else I know, I have written long enough to know that the solitary nature of the process can make it hard to keep momentum, and the unpredictability of writing group feedback can confuse intent.

These womxn's writing circles will meet eight (8) times each year to discuss our respective projects, the writing life, and complete a generative exercise. Each participant must commit to the full season (2 sessions). These groups are structured and designed for accountability as well as feedback. They will take place over a Zoom call and will include:

A group check-in

A visualization or meditation

A writing or revision prompt

Optional: Group feedback on up to 10 pages

Resources for publication opportunities and generative tools

If you choose to submit writing, please do so 2 weeks in advance of our meeting.

The full membership also includes access to our private Facebook group and discounts on certain workshops throughout the year.

Investment

$70/season

$270/year

*If you are unable to make the meeting, I will still send feedback and resources from our meeting. Some meetings may be recorded with everyone's permission.
